THE 21ST SUNDAY IN SUMMER’S ORDINARY TIME

From Father Robert

We have to love choices between two goods – that way we cannot lose. The disciples in today’s gospel are faced with a choice. This choice, however, is not between two goods. It is a choice between life and death. Just as Joshua sets before the Israelites a choice (“decide today whom you will serve”) so, too, does Jesus set before us a choice (“Do you also want to leave?”). Staying with Jesus is a choice for “eternal life.” It cannot be a half-hearted choice. It is a choice that must be backed up by who we are and the way we choose to live.

Jesus’ teaching about the Eucharist is the fulcrum upon which this choice rests, for it is the Eucharist which draws together our relationship with Jesus as well as with one another in lives of self-giving. And this is what makes choosing to follow Jesus so difficult: the demand of discipleship is that we embrace all of Jesus’ way of living – we embrace the goodness of Who He is and the demands of self-giving living as He did. On our own, we could not even make such a demanding and all-encompassing choice. But Jesus also reminds us that we are not alone; the Holy Spirit is given us as well and enables us to make the choice to which Jesus calls us.

Thus the choice Jesus sets before the disciples in this gospel is deeper than simply “Do you also want to leave?” Jesus is inviting them to come to believe in Who He is (“the Holy One of God” given as Bread from heaven) and what He offers (His own Body and Blood for eternal Life). Believing, however, is not mere verbal assent. It must become the lived conviction of choosing to stay with and in the risen Christ. Choosing to stay with Jesus is a way of living modeled on Jesus’ own way of self-giving living.

Choosing Jesus and His teaching requires letting go of what we know of God and allowing God to act in a whole new way toward us. Israel’s expectations of God and who the Messiah would be blocked the way for some to see God acting in a new way and offering a whole new way of relating to us. Never before had Israel heard of a God who becomes incarnate and dwells among the people. Never before had God demanded so much of the people – to give one’s life for others. To share in Jesus’ Body and Blood demands of us this same kind of self-giving. The gift transforms us and in this it makes harsh demands on us, for we become like the Master and can expect to have done to us what the Master had done to Him. Choosing to follow Jesus and accept His gift of Self to us is a challenge to see beyond the sacrifice of self-giving and continual dying for the sake of others to the Life that comes from the this self-sacrifice. It is always good to remember that Jesus is the Bread of Life. Self-giving always leads to new life and this is why we are able to make the choice to stay with the Master – He has “the words of eternal life.”

Living The Paschal Mystery

“It is the Spirit that gives life.” The Holy Spirit dwells within us and is the source of our life in the risen Christ and of our commitment to follow Jesus.
wholeheartedly. Without the Spirit we would not be able to shoulder the demands of discipleship, and we would return to our “former way of life.” The Spirit enables us to enter into the rhythm of paschal mystery living – of dying and rising, of self-giving and the Life of the indwelling Spirit. Constant vigilance and openness to the Spirit within nudges any halfhearted response to a wholehearted one to choose Jesus and the way of living to which He invites us.

As we come to the last Sunday of the Bread of Life Discourse, what effect has the past five weeks had on your spiritual journey?

- The daily choices I make that point to my belief in Jesus as the “Holy One of God” are…
- My eating and drinking the Body and Blood of Christ deepens my conviction about how I should live as a follower of the risen Christ in these ways…
- My belief is borne out in lived conviction when I…

About Liturgy: Eucharist – Doctrine and Response

For all too many Christians, Eucharist is a matter primarily of believing in the right teachings. Right doctrine is important – we believe that the substance of the bread and wine truly are changed into the substance of the Body and Blood of Christ. (This is what “transubstantiation” means: substance is changed.) We aren’t just saying Jesus’ Body and Blood are given to us for our nourishment; the change in substance is real. At the same time that we struggle with right doctrine, we are also faced with a choice every time we go to Holy Communion: to become more perfectly the Body of Christ and to live as Jesus.

Eucharist always demands a self-giving response. Eucharist draws forth from us belief and conviction.

Whether our believing in Jesus’ Body and Blood stops at the level of doctrine or is carried over into our living is measured by how much over time we (and others) can actually see a difference in our lives. Are we becoming more charitable, more just, more holy? Is this measurable in our everyday actions – for example, do we say fewer unkind words, are we more aware of others’ needs, are we happier individuals? Eucharist must make a difference in our lives.

We often hear that we are a Eucharistic church, that Eucharist defines who we are. What this means in a nutshell is that we are a self-giving people, concerned always for the good of others. The Eucharist is a great gift; the gift is received not only when we eat and drink Jesus’ Body and Blood, but also when we live the self-giving this gift demands. Eucharist changes us, changes our church, and changes our world. But only when we truly live who we become in Jesus – “the Holy One of God.”

“Laudato Si! Me Signore!”

Tomorrow, Monday, August 24th, is the second of three sessions given by Fr. Tom Bonacci, C.P., on the latest encyclical of Francis, Bishop of Rome. I cannot recommend these sessions highly enough. Fr. Tom’s presentations are insightful, filled with great wisdom, funny, and poignant. You do not need to have attended the first session in order to attend tomorrow’s or the final session on the 31st. Don’t miss out on this singular opportunity to hear this great biblical scholar reflect on the meaning and significance of the encyclical. Breakfast pastries, fresh fruit, coffee, and juice are provided. A free will offering is gratefully accepted.

Pastoral Staff Days
This coming Wednesday and Thursday, the members of our Pastoral Staff will meet for two days to prepare for the coming Pastoral Year 2015 – 2016. We are very fortunate to have obtained the services of Marge Perez who will facilitate the process of each day plus lead us in prayer, reflection, and meditation. Please keep us in prayer as we prepare to lead the parish into this new year and seek to fulfill God’s will for our faith community.

Hot August Night 50’s Style!
This coming Saturday, August 29th, our Social Events Committee is sponsoring “Hot August Night 50’s Style!” beginning immediately following the 5:00 p.m. Vigil Eucharist. Held in the parish tent, the evening will include dinner, dancing, and a “Hula Hoop Competition” between myself and our adopted seminarian, Mario Rizzo. You are invited to dress in period clothing. All proceeds benefit the parish and the Educational Fund for our seminarian. Tickets are available in the Gathering Plaza following each liturgy this weekend.

Neighborhood Clean-up
Please come out and join me and other citizens of Antioch for the next Neighborhood Clean-up to be held on Saturday, September 5th, from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. at Gentrytown Park. Our Volunteer in Police Service provide all the equipment we need to do the job. Be sure to put on sunscreen and wear a hat. I look forward to seeing you there.

Thank You, Pablo and Norma Villegas
On Saturday, August 8th, Pablo and Norma Villegas celebrated their 50th Anniversary of Marriage with a beautiful Eucharistic Liturgy, followed by a wonderful reception at Lone Tree Event Center. They requested that their 350 guests honor their special day by making a contribution to the Building Fund of the parish for the construction of our long-awaited and much needed Great Hall. During the week following the celebration, Pablo and Norma came to my office and presented me with over $9,000 in monetary gifts that family, friends, and fellow parishioners gave them to honor this special day in their married life. Their generosity is a testimony to their generosity, their love of God, and their love of our parish. On behalf of all of us, I wish to thank them for this self-less gift which will go towards helping us realize the dream of the Great Hall. Again, congratulations and best wishes for many more years of the best of health and much happiness!

Congratulations To The Reverend Dr. Mario H. Howell
On Friday evening, September 11th, at 7:30 p.m., I have been invited to join the congregation of Antioch Church Family in honoring The Reverend Dr. Mario H. Howell, Pastor of Antioch Church Family, and First Lady, Joyce Howell, on the occasion of his 20th Anniversary as Pastor. Dr. Howell is the longest tenured Pastor of all the clergy serving Antioch. He has been vitally involved in our community and a fearless advocate for social justice for all oppressed and marginalized peoples. Dr. Howell has become a dear friend and colleague and has joined us each year for our Ecumenical Good Friday Service. You are welcome to join me for this well-deserved evening of recognition, appreciation, and celebration. If you are unable to attend, please feel free to send him an anniversary card of appreciation for his twenty years of ministry to his congregation as well as to the people of East County.

Adult Faith Formation – “The Rites to Die Right!”

Once again, I will be presenting an Adult Faith Formation program/seminar on “The Rites to Die Right.” It will take place on Wednesday evening, Sept. 23rd, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. in the parish hall. There is no cost to attend.

The session will focus on the church’s pastoral care of the sick, its presence at the time of death, related rites, and the three principal movements of the Order of Christian Funerals: The Vigil, Funeral Liturgy, and Committal. Issues around cremation and disposition will also be addressed. You will not want to miss this informative and entertaining workshop.

For those of you who may not be aware, I am also a Licensed Funeral Director in the State of California, License No. #1598, and am able to bring a unique perspective to the issue of selecting a mortuary/funeral home/cremation society to serve you at the time of the death of a loved one. Please mark your calendars accordingly and plan to attend.

Pope designates Sept. 1 as World Day of Prayer for Care of Creation

*Cindy Wooden Catholic News Service
Vatican City*

Like their Orthodox brothers and sisters, Catholics formally will mark Sept. 1 as the World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation, Pope Francis has decided. The day of prayer, the pope said, will give individuals and communities an opportunity to implore God's help in protecting creation and an opportunity to ask God's forgiveness "for sins committed against the world in which we live."

Francis announced his decision to add the annual prayer day to the Catholic calendar in a letter to Cardinal Peter Turkson, president of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, and to Cardinal Kurt Koch, president of the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity.

The text of the letter, dated Aug. 6, was released by the Vatican Monday. Francis said he was instituting the prayer day for Catholics because he shares the concern of Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew of Constantinople, who initiated a similar prayer day for the Orthodox Church in 1989.

Metropolitan John of Pergamon, who represented the patriarch at the public presentation June 18 of Francis' encyclical, "Laudato Si’, on Care for Our Common Home" had suggested there that all Christians join in prayer Sept. 1. "This would mark a step toward further closeness among them," he had said. Francis said Christians want to make their special contribution to safeguarding creation, but to do that they must rediscover the spiritual foundations of their approach to earthly realities, beginning with an acknowledgment that "the life of the spirit is not dissociated from the body or from nature," but lived in communion with all worldly realities.

The ecological crisis, he said, is a summons "to a profound spiritual conversion" and to a way of life that clearly shows they are believers.

Quoting his encyclical, he said, "lifing our vocation to be protectors of God's handiwork is essential to a life of virtue; it is not an optional or a secondary aspect of our Christian experience."

The annual World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation, Francis said, will be a time for individuals and communities to "reaffirm their personal vocation to be stewards of creation, to thank God for the wonderful handiwork which he has entrusted to our care, and to implore his help for the protection of creation as well as his pardon for the sins committed against the world in which we live."

The pope asked Koch to consult with and work with the Catholic Church's ecumenical partners and the World Council of Churches to make sure the prayer day becomes a sign of Christians' commitment to work together to safeguard creation "in order to be more credible and effective."

He entrusted to the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace the task of working with Catholic bishops' conferences and environmental organizations to publicize and coordinate the specifics of the celebration.

"I invoke upon this initiative the intercession of Mary, mother of God, and of St. Francis of Assisi, whose Canticle of the Creatures inspires so many men and women of goodwill to live in praise of the Creator and with respect for creation," he said.

Thank You

…to our volunteer parishioners who arrive early each Saturday morning to clean and prepare the church for the weekend and the coming week: Rose Salamanca, Mency Osborne, Angela Bueno, Steve Rojek, Jun Bajet, and Reno Benasfre.

…to our cadre of volunteer parishioners who are so faithful in cleaning and maintaining the bathrooms in the church and parish hall. They are there on Saturday mornings, following the Vigil Liturgy and also after the Sunday liturgies, as well as checking on them and maintaining them throughout the week; Robert Goncalves, Mary Ewing, Gino Ramos, Geri Abaya, and Harlan Young.

…to Rudy Fernandez and Carolyn Krantz for joining me at the Contra Costa County Supervisors Meeting this past Tuesday morning in Martinez.

First Annual Cabaret

Last Friday evening, the members of our Music Ministry, under the direction of Don Pearson, Director of Music/Organist/Artist-in-Residence, presented our first-ever “Cabaret.” More than 200 parishioners and guests began arriving as early as 6:30 to secure their places in the church. Some were honest in their pre-assessment of the evening that it would be nothing more than a “church” event, or a glorified “Karaoke” performance. What actually happened was nothing of the kind.

No one expected the caliber of music and performance by our singers and musicians. From the very first number, performed by Don Pearson, a Prelude on the Superman theme, the bar was set extremely high. His opening prelude was followed by the following:
Chip Sharpe performing solo and playing the guitar for “Uncle John’s Band” composed by Jerry Garcia of the Grateful Dead; Maryann Peddicord singing “Till There Was You” from “The Music Man” composed by Meredith Wilson; Kirby Mcnesby and Chip Sharpe performing “Tomorrow Never Comes” by the Zach Brown Band and composed by Zachary Alexander, Nick Moon, and Wyatt Durrett; Geri Abaya performing “There's No Business Like Show Business” from “Annie Get Your Gun” composed by Irving Berlin; Doreen Manalac performing “The Way We Were” from the movie of the same title and composed by Alan and Marilyn Bergman and Marvin Hamlisch; Gino Ramos performing “Bring Him Home” from “Les Miserables” composed by Alain Boubill and Claude-Michel Schoenberg; Paul Riofski performing “Try To Remember” from “The Fantasticks” and composed by Harvey Schmidt; Geri Abaya performing “If I Loved You” from “Carousel” and composed by Rodgers and Hammerstein; Kirby and Terri Mcnesby performing “Under The Mango Tree” composed by Zachary Alexander Brown; Doreen Manalac performing “Hopelessly Devoted To You” from “Grease” and composed by John Farrar; Chip Sharpe performing “Right Field” composed by Willy Welch; Gino Ramos performing “She’s Got You!” composed by Hank Cochran and made famous by Patsy Cline (for which he received a STANDING OVATION!!!); Alicia Perez performing “Fever” accompanied by Jim Peddicord on bass guitar and composed by Eddie Cooley and Otis Blackwell; Alicia Perez performing “Summertime” from “Porgy and Bess” accompanied by Jim Peddicord on trombone and composed by George Gershwin; and concluding the evening, the combined choirs performing “The Irish Blessing” composed by Katy Moran Bart.

There were tears, hilarious laughter, toes tapping, heads bobbing in time with the music, and many singing along softly with the well-known and beloved tunes. Everyone in attendance was touched by the sincerity and genuineness with which each number was performed, not to mention the beauty of each voice and the accompaniment of Don Pearson. I could not have been more proud of each one and the effort, commitment, dedication, and love that our musicians brought to this evening – it truly was a gift of their hearts. We are also grateful to Gloria Loyola, Cecille Mirano, and Joelan Tanique for their respective roles in making the evening so successful.

The reception following the concert was wonderful as well: champagnes from various countries and tables laden with fresh fruit, cheeses, home-made macaroons, and other delectable sweets to satisfy any palate. Many thanks to Frances Rojek, Nancy Newton, Cecille Mirano, Charlie Mirano, Gloria Loyola, Lorraine Lohmeier, and all those who donated both the champagne as well as the food for the reception.
